

Does your child have challenging behaviors??

Does your child have challenging behaviors, such as tantrums, excessive crying, stubbornness, hitting, screaming, or other difficult behaviors?
Is he or she between the ages of 3 and 6?

If so, we'd like to talk to you and hear your story.

A research group at the University of South Florida is seeking two-parent families for a study of coparenting among families raising young children with challenging behaviors. We are interested in understanding how parents work together to raise their child. Participating parents will be interviewed separately by members of the research team in a location of the family's choosing (e.g., home, university office, community setting). The total participation time for each parent is estimated to be about 90 minutes.

$25 Gift Card to Publix and children's book for each family that participates in our study!

To participate in this study:

- 1.) You must have a child between 3-6 years of age with challenging behaviors
- 2.) Be parenting your child with a partner who lives in the same household (e.g., spouse, significant other)
- 3.) Speak fluent English (both parents)

Contact Information: To participate, please call Dr. Linda M. Raffaele Mendez, Ph.D, USF School Psychology Program. at (813) 974-1255 or e-mail her at raffaele@tempest.coedu.usf.edu